from our Chair

On behalf of Pastures & Grazing NSW, I extend a warm invitation to you to become a sponsor of our organisation. Sponsorship runs over two years, commencing January 2025, with sponsors having access to the following:

1. Biennial Conference: We're excited to announce the return of our conference in 2026, an event that attracts about two hundred attendees, offering exposure to our growing membership base, conference delegates, industry experts and the wider agricultural community. Major conference sponsorship includes free registration and the opportunity to chair a session.
2. Pasture Updates: These are run in Northern, Central and Southern NSW, generally three events per year. The location alternates each year between the tablelands and slopes of each region, and are held over one day, with the usual format being a morning indoor session followed by a property visit in the afternoon. The aim of our Pasture Updates is to provide a mix of the latest science with practical information for farmers. Articles are reproduced in our newsletter and distributed to members of the organisation, and videos from events are also made available online. The Pasture Updates held previously have proven very popular with farmers, advisors and sponsors. The exposure that sponsors enjoy at up to three events each year offers great value.
3. Quarterly newsletter: Our updated newsletter is proving very popular and has a high number of subscriptions, containing all the latest information and research about grassland farming and pasture management. Sponsorship offers a great opportunity for exposure to our members.

Pastures & Grazing NSW has developed its profile over recent years through its capacity to communicate effectively across all agricultural sectors. Government agencies, while traditionally prominent in this role, have been constrained by tight budgets and reducing staff numbers. While these agencies continue to make a vital contribution, Pastures & Grazing NSW is well placed to take an increasing role in information dissemination.

In order to do so, our organisation relies heavily on financial assistance, and it is in this context that we encourage you to sponsor us this year.

I look forward to welcoming both new and previous sponsors in your support of our organisation in 2025. It is truly a unique opportunity to promote your organisation and its services to our membership.

Yours sincerely,
